2009 INDIANA CORN AND SOYBEAN ACREAGE UP

Based on a June 1 survey of growers, the 2009 Indiana planted acreage of corn for all purposes is estimated at 5.7 million acres. This is unchanged from the 2008 level. Corn acreage expected for harvest, at 5.54 million acres, is up one percent from last year. Soybean acreage planted or to be planted for all purposes is estimated at 5.5 million acres, up 1 percent above the 2008 planted acreage level. Soybean acreage for harvest as grain is expected to total 5.48 million acres, up 1 percent from a year earlier. Winter wheat seeded acres of 470,000 are down 19 percent from a year earlier. Area expected to be harvested for grain, at 450,000 acres, is down 20 percent from a year ago and up 5 percent from the May 1 forecast. Wheat yield and production will be updated in the July 10 Crop Report. Oat seeded acreage of 15,000 is unchanged from 2008 and the acreage expected to be harvested, at 8,000 is up 60 percent from last year. Producers expect to harvest 600,000 acres of all hay in 2009, up 2 percent from 2008. Alfalfa hay acreage, at 300,000 is unchanged from last year, while all other hay at 300,000 acres is up 3 percent from 2008.

Nationally, corn planted area for all purposes in 2009 is estimated at 87.0 million acres, up 1 percent from last year but 7 percent below 2007. This is the second largest planted acreage since 1946, behind 2007. Planting proceeded behind the normal pace, similar to last year, as frequent spring precipitation and cold temperatures slowed early season fieldwork and planting activities in the central and eastern Corn Belt, Ohio Valley, and northern Great Plains. On May 10, corn planting was 48 percent complete, down 23 points from 5-year average. In late May, however, dryer conditions allowed farmers to make rapid progress. Farmers reported that 97 percent of the intended corn acreage had been planted at the time of the survey interview compared with the 10-year average of 98 percent.

U.S. soybean planted area for 2009 is estimated at a record high 77.5 million acres, up 2 percent from last year. Area for harvest, at 76.5 million acres, is up 3 percent from 2008, and will be the largest harvested area on record, if realized. Compared with last year, planted acreage increased by 200,000 acres or more in Kansas, Mississippi, Missouri, North Dakota, and South Dakota. The largest decrease is in Nebraska, down 400,000 acres from 2008, as many farmers switched to corn this year. Record high planted acreage is estimated in Kansas, New York, North Dakota, and Pennsylvania.

Nationally, all wheat planted area is estimated at 59.8 million acres, down 5 percent from 2008. The 2009 winter wheat planted area, at 43.4 million acres, is 6 percent below last year but up 1 percent from the previous estimate. Of this total, about 31.4 million acres are Hard Red Winter, 8.4 million acres are Soft Red Winter, and 3.6 million acres are White Winter. Area planted to other spring wheat for 2009 is estimated at 13.8 million acres, down 3 percent from 2008. Of this total, about 13.1 million acres are Hard Red Spring wheat. Durum planted area for 2009 is estimated at 2.56 million acres, down 6 percent from the previous year.
